NEXWAVE Selected as Finalist at European Tech Tours
In Paris- November 16-18, 2005

MONTPELLIER, December 5, 2005—NexWave Inc, the leading provider of embedded software solutions was selected to present at the French Tech Tour as part of European Tech Tour series held in France from November 16th-18th 2005. Nexwave was selected to the Finalist list of this event as one of the most promising and shining examples of technology innovations in the region.

Mr. Jacques Clay, Chairman & President of French Tech Tour '05 presented Nexwave with the Finalist selection award and said: " The European Tech Tour Association (ETT) was founded in Geneva in 1998 in response to growing interest to find and recognize emerging technology companies in various European regions. ETT is an independent organization and recognizes that continued prosperity in Europe lies in its ability to transform today's innovative companies into tomorrow's global technology leaders. We are pleased to award such recognition to Nexwave and wish them much success in the future".

Mr. Joep van Beurden, CEO of Nexwave accepted this great recognition and commented: "We are honored to be part of the elite group of technology companies in Europe presenting at European Tech Tour. We are specially honored for the selection of Nexwave as Finalist and like to thank the European and French Tech Tour management and organizing committees for
